

Adventures in Australia

In a beautiful forest a dangerous snake bit a foot of the tourist. The people laughed. The tourist screamed with pain and he was running everywhere in the forest and calmed down after thirty minutes.

The ranger came to take him. The group of tourists continued the exploration in the forest and the desert at night in the hills. A snake went out of the bush. It was a cobra. The group of people avoided the snake and continued the exploration.

One night, in the jungle, I was exploring the big forest with my friends and my brother. I saw the tourist. He was climbing in a high tree and he was screaming and screaming and screaming. I was scared to death!!! My brother and my friends were also afraid. We fell in the river "the big river" but there was a problem: the river "the big river" was full of hungry (very hungry) crocodiles!! The tourist jumped on the crocodile and he killed it with my friends and my brother. We were saved!!
