

TOURIST In DANGER.

One day, I went camping and I saw a tourist who was walking. I saw the tourist touched a snake which bit him. The snake was venomous and the tourist could die.

I phoned to call for help for the tourist. The tourist went out of the hospital two days later.

The next day, I saw the tourist next to me. He was looking at a crocodile which was dangerous because it was hungry but the tourist didn't touch it !

I walked around the park and the tourist was here in front of me I took a photo and I danced in the park.

The tourist took the bus to go back to his house.

The
crocodile is marvellous !

